DOUGLAS GRABS TIGHTER HOLD ON BALL TOURNAMENT HONORS

Scott Goes in Again and Wins With Ease
Eddie Ward Stars Mathewson
Bests Rube Waddell

Tournament Standing.

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Douglas	3	0	1.000
El Paso	2	1	.666
Morenci	2	2	.500
Socorro	1	2	.333
Colonla Dublin	0	3	.000

(Exclusive Dispatch).

EL PASO, Nov. 5.—Jimmy Scott went into the box for Douglas again in this afternoon's game with Morenci, and although a little wild, Morenci couldn't hit him at critical stages. Hooks essayed to pitch for the miners, but was driven from the slab in the fourth inning, Dolly Gray succeeding him. Six hits were gleamed off Hooks in four innings, while but three were made off Gray.

Eddie Ward, formerly of Bisbee, played second for the Dons and made the star fielding play of the day, a marvelous stop of a grounder back of first base. Manager Douglas, also stole home in the eighth inning, while the pitcher held the ball.

In the morning the White Sox and Socorro clashed, with Christy Mathewson and Rube Waddell in a pitching duel. Curiously enough, each team in this exhibition made just as many errors as it did hits, El Paso winning, 2 to 1. Tomorrow's games will decide the championship of the southwest. El Paso still has a chance, but its mighty slim. The score:

Morning Game.

El Paso	2	4	4
Socorro	1	5	5

Batteries: Mathewson and Edmonds; Waddell and Wadley.

Afternoon Game.

Douglas	7	9	1
Morenci	1	4	5

Batteries: Scott and Wolfe; Hooks, Gray and Wynne. Umpire, Derrick. Morning attendance, 2500; afternoon attendance, 15,000.

Doctors in the Future.

Perhaps the day will come when the world can do without the doctors, reaching that state of wisdom, when it will not contract disease. If such a golden age ever arrives on earth, surely one of its inspiring traditions will be the lives of the physicians who did so much for humanity in these less happy times.—Detroit Free Press.

Why She Declined.

"Really," said the stylish lady, enthusiastically, to her friend, "it is worth while to see the wonderful display of rhododendrons." "Is it?" replied her friend, languidly: "I like to look at the great big clumsy beasts, too; but it always smells so unpleasantly around the cages."—Le News.

The Wifely Letter.

A woman sent in a fire alarm yesterday when she posted a letter. It must have been to her husband.—Chicago Evening Post.

Said by the Sage.

After some rather close observation of the ways of promoters, one is convinced that the best way for a man to keep his word is not to give it.

BISBEE COUPLE WED DESPITE DELAYS

The old sayings that "Love laughs at Locksmiths," "Cupid will find a Way," etc., were amply borne out in the romance surrounding the marriage of Ralph Robinson, a well known young miner living on School Hill, and Miss Fannie Johnson, also favorably known in Bisbee.

They had been "keeping company" for some time, and it was finally arranged satisfactorily to both sides to proceed to Tombstone, where Robinson's sister, Mrs. Bert Macia, resides. Mrs. Macia, incidentally, is Ralph's guardian, he being but nineteen years old and his sweetheart but sixteen.

However, when their wishes were explained to Ralph's guardian she stoutly protested, and so loudly that when they attempted to wed at the county seat there was "nothing doing". They then left and came to Bisbee, determined to marry whether they had the guardian's blessing or not. But Justice Burdick, to whom they applied had been apprised of the objection of Mrs. Macia. They then proceeded to Naco, where the same difficulties presented themselves and it was not until they reached Hachita New Mexico, that the knot was finally tied by Justice Trimble.

PARIS, Nov. 5.—Group of French jurists before whom Mme. Margaret Steinhilf is being tried on a charge of murder. Below is the building in which the crime took place. The case is second in interest to the French people only to the famous Dreyfus trial, when, when the honor of the French army was at stake.

Many remarkable features surround the case, chief of which is the fact that the woman was known to be associated closely with the late president of the republic of France. Mme. Steinhilf is a remarkable character in many ways, and the world is looking on to see what disposition the voice of the French will make of her.

Pine Cakes.

The modern farmer touched various attractive cakes on the shelf.

"This is an oak cake," he said. "That is a pine one. The row above are walnut. All these cakes are actually made of wood. They are a new cattle food—the invention of Prof. Heinrich Rah—that I have imported from Berlin.

"Rah points out that the animals like young shoots, roots of shrubs bark—hence his saw-dust food, enriched with a mixture of potato peelings, cornhusk and the residue of the sugar beet after the extraction of the sugar.

"It is said that this food, the cheapest known, agrees with cattle. And why shouldn't it? It is rich in albumen, nitrogen and fat—much richer than straw. I propose to give it a fair trial. If it does all that is claimed for it, the price of milk ought to come down 50 per cent."

An Ancient Parsonage of Maine.

The Congregational parsonage at Kittery is one of the oldest houses in the state of Maine. It is the oldest ecclesiastical residence in the state, and the oldest one in present use in New England. This house was built in 1729, in the days of the Hon. William Pepperell, father of Sir William Pepperell. It contains the library bequeathed by Sir William to Dr. Benjamin Stevens, for 40 years minister of the Kittery Point church. Dr. Stevens is his son's son, and the library is the Congregational minister of Kittery and York for all time. Many of these books contain the Pepperell coat of arms.

Strive for Enlightenment.

As with nations, so with individuals—education counts. Enlightenment brings men to the front, into the white light of prosperity and fame, while ignorance keeps them in the background, in the darkness of poverty and obscurity.

Uncle Allen.

"Whether you believe in praying for rain or not," remarked Uncle Allen Sparks, "it's a thundering sight better—if you don't mind my putting it in that way—than scolding Providence because you don't get it."

Silk Hat Economy.

We may regard London as the home of the silk hat, and we feel sure that here the frothing of customers' hats has had a very pernicious effect on the trade. The average silk hat wearer will buy only one of these hats in a year.—Outfitter.

Cultivate Cheerfulness.

Temperament may not be overcome, but it can be modified. The best character that you can take as your guide is one absolutely true and always cheerful. Cheerfulness is one of the first of virtues.

Violence is Reason.

Reason is always a kind of brute force; those who appeal to the heart rather than the head, however pallid and polite, are necessarily men of violence. We speak of "touching" a man's heart, but we can do nothing to his head but hit it.—Gilbert K. Chesterton.

Deserved Punishment.

"A man in Washington was fined $10 for stealing three umbrellas," says the Buffalo Express. Well, Washington doesn't mean to be pettish, unduly exacting, or anything of that kind, of course; but three umbrellas! Wasn't that rather rubbing it in?—Washington Herald.

Observations of a Woman.

Mrs. C. R. Miller in a recent magazine article says that the people of Hayti are of a jealous disposition, and that the general rule after the manner of a schoolboy bully. They do not like to see others of their own race successful, and the better class of citizens take no part in the government.

Character Told by Thumb.

If the thumb be supple jointed the individual is easy-going, spendthrift, careless of time, money, energy, opportunity and all things. If it be firm jointed he is cautious, watchful, keen, diplomatic, tireless in planning, confident and sure of success, self-poised and self-controlling.

Women Are to Share with Men.

Men and women are to have a common way of life—a common education—and they are to watch over the citizens in common, whether abiding in the city or going out to war; they are to guard together and to hunt together like dogs; and always are in all things women are to share with the men.—Plato.

The Good That Never Dies.

Dickens: There is nothing, innocent or good, that dies and is forgotten. Let us hold to that faith or none. An infant, a prattling child, will live again in the better thoughts of those who loved it, and will play its part, through them, in the redeeming actions of the world, though its body be burnt to ashes or drowned in the deepest sea.

The Law on Notes.

A note made on Sunday is void. Contracts made on Sunday cannot be enforced. A contract made with a lunatic is void. A note obtained by fraud or from a person in a state of intoxication, cannot be collected. Signatures made with a lead pencil are good in law. "Value received" is usually written in a note and should be, but is not necessary. If not written, it is presumed by law, or may be supplied by proof.

What Country Dwellers Need.

A third of our population is urban; the rest is more or less rural. What the country dwellers need to make them happy are religion, education and material prosperity. The farms cannot employ as many laborers as before, as they did before the coming of agricultural machinery. Therefore they must either raise fewer children or export some of their population to the cities.—Harper's Weekly.

The American Girl Abroad.

At the luncheon hour in the Strand recently the traffic was held up, pedestrians puzzled after the nearest fire alarm, constables spread their arms and the crowd increased. From the edge of the crowd the struggling wayfarer peered and heard the snap of the camera through the official silence. It was an American girl snapping her companions.—London Chronicle.

Idleness Gathers No Sheaves.

Idleness never made its way in the world and never will. The world does not owe us a living. Every man and woman alike owes the world work. Nathaniel Hawthorne says: "It is my creed that a man has no claim on his fellow-creatures beyond bread and water and a grave unless he can win it by his strength and skill."

A Hard Case, Indeed.

A religious note from Parson Fishfoot's congregation, as recorded in the Chicago Daily News: Parson Fishfoot—"Kawwin", Sister Snowball. How am Brudder Snowball dis mawin's? Sister Snowball—"He am powful bad 'is mawin's' parson. De doctah done say he have a 'lignant ulster on his back, an' Ah's 'traid he am gwine ter be a firm'd infidel."
